Opening of BTG Centre of Excellence in Hyderabad

BTG announces the opening of its new Indian Centre of Excellence located in Hyderabad, India. The facility is a state-of-the-art technical support centre and digital hub that will greatly enhance BTG capability to serve the Indian and regional markets. BTG certified technical specialists operating out of this Centre of Excellence will support BTG devices sold and installed at BTG customers locally and regionally. In addition, a laboratory with a variety of analytical capabilities, including charge and morphology is also established. Research & Development engineers based at the Centre of Excellence will be involved in product design and development, working closely with the BTG factory in Sweden.
